

Project Engineer – FARRELL DESIGN-BUILD, INC.

Farrell is seeking a full-time Project Engineer to join our team in the beautiful foothills of Placerville, CA. This role is focused on supporting project management team. We are looking for someone who is reliable, hardworking, organized, and proactive. While construction experience is a strong advantage, this is primarily a non-physical job. Occasional out-of-town fieldwork will be required.

At Farrell, we want our customers, partners, and employees to know, that above all else, we are honest, firm, and we strive to be graceful and humble. This is an exciting and challenging job opportunity in the growing deep foundation, ground improvement, and shoring industry. Farrell works with leading General Contractors and Developers to build complex and award-winning projects in California and throughout the West Coast. Join our team as we continue our company's expansion.
